WHAT IS AN INTERMEDIATE UNIT?

EVERY YEAR, more than 175,000 students and 50,000 educators receive services from one of Pennsylvania's 29 intermediate units (IUs).

As public, regional educational service agencies, intermediate units provide educational, administrative and technology services to the Commonwealth's 500 school districts, 170 charter schools and 3,000 nonpublic school districts.

Founded in 1971 by the Pennsylvania General Assembly, IUs were created to serve as a liaison between local schools and the Pennsylvania Department of Education.

Intermediate units leverage educational and business partnerships to expand high-quality services to Pennsylvania's students, schools, and communities. Pennsylvania's IUs work collaboratively to meet the needs of all the students in the Commonwealth and to ensure that schools everywhere in Pennsylvania have the tools and the resources needed to help students reach their fullest potential and become contributors to our economy.
